

Things To Do Immediately If Your Credit Card Is Stolen

A list of worries toggles along a lost or stolen card; fraudulent charges being on top of that list.

Here is a list of things to do immediately after your credit card is lost/ stolen:

1

Note down the time and date when you realize that your card is missing. Also make sure that you inform your card issuer immediately after that.

2

If you are quick to report before the card is used by anyone, you would not be liable to pay for any unauthorized charges.

3

If your issuer allows, temporarily lock or disable your card to gain time for further searching your card.

4

Send an email to your issuer with your account number, date & time of card loss & when you reported it to keep a log of information.

5

Keep a tab on your credit card activity & contact the credit card company if you notice any fraudulent charges or suspicious activity.

6

Check if your insurance covers you for credit card theft & contact your insurance provider, if you are covered for the same.
